

A Wise Precaution.

A Southern druggist has invented a contrivance to prevent serious mistakes in filling prescriptions. His invention is a bottle, just like others, except in one particular. It has a glass stopper covered with innumerable sharp points that sensibly prick the hand if one is not careful in removing it from the bottle.

GERMAN physicians class cholera as a fifth disease. They contend that in communities where premises are kept clean and sweet, and only pure food and water are taken into the system, the people have little or no cause to fear the disease.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the Worst Case of Scrofula they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. LIKE THE SIXTH OF JULY.

Hundreds of Riots at Homestead Pa., on Sunday.

Unrestrained by the presence of a large force of deputy sheriffs, the pent-up hatred of the Homestead strikers burst forth Sunday and vented itself on eight colored non-unionists. Firearms were brought into play by both sides, and during the riot one of the colored men had his head cut open with a butcher knife in the hands of a woman. All of the colored men suffered severely from being struck with stones, kicked and other wise maltreated. Three strikers, whose names are said to be Peters, McFadden and Jones, are reported to have been shot by the non-unionists, but the wounded men could not be found. In all about 50 shots were fired. The negroes were placed under arrest, as were three white men, supposed to be strikers.

The riot lasted about an hour, and was participated in by at least 500 men and women, while about 3,000 persons witnessed the affair. Great excitement prevailed throughout the town during the greater part of the night. Threats were made to burn down all the non-union boarding houses in Homestead.

NEARLY FORTY PEOPLE KILLED.

A FRIGHTFUL DISASTER IN MORAVIA CAUSED BY THE COLLAPSE OF A FLESHY MILL BUILDING.

A mill collapsed in Operau, Moravia, shortly before the hands were to leave for the night. Almost 200 men were in the building at the time.

In the panic the stairway collapsed, and before anyone could struggle out of the ruins the whole building came down. About 50 persons were caught in the bricks and broken timbers. Several were rescued, but it is supposed that 35 or 40 were killed. The dead bodies of 20 have been removed, and the debris will undoubtedly reveal many more. Fifty men are at work clearing away the ruins.

The mill was flimsily built, and the operation of the heavy machinery on the second floor is believed to have caused the collapse. The police are looking for the builder and will arrest him.

Leopard moths, which are comparatively new insects in our country, appearing first in Brooklyn some five years ago, threaten to become as destructive as the Gypsy moth, and it is feared that they will be more difficult to eradicate, as they are not leaf eaters, and not easily reached with insecticides. The moth is easily recognized, being white with black dots, and the larva is also marked in the same way. She deposits her eggs usually in or near the crotch of a tree, and the eggs hatch in June, and the young then begin boring into it, usually at the crotch, going either upward or downward, but always at the heart of the tree, so weakening it that the limbs are broken off by a slight wind, or even by their own weight. Thus far the work of the leopard moth has been chiefly upon the maples, but the elms, lindens, white oaks, mountain ash, hawthorn, mulberry, tulip and at least one variety of hickory have shown their presence, as also have apples, pears and currants. Common-Sense Marriages. Modern society has welcomed common-sense shoes and common-sense forms of dress, writes John Lambert Payne in an attempt to solve the question "Why Young Men Defert Marriage," in the Ladies' Home Journal. It would seem that the time is opportune for a widespread outbreak of common-sense marriages. At all events, if a change from the present stagnation is to be effected, three things seem to be necessary: First, there must be a popular knowledge of the facts; second, the people at large must think; and third, there must be action.
